Thai Lottery and Lucky Numbers Generator

Ask Thai people whether they have ever bought a lottery ticket, and you'll find most will say yes. In fact, it's quite hard to find a Thai who's never bought a lottery ticket. That may not seem a particularly remarkable fact. But ask Thais how they decide which numbers to buy and things can get distinctly bizarre. The fact is, there are virtually no lengths Thais will not go to in order to get that winning combination of numbers.

Gamblers the world over pray to their gods for success and inspiration, or simply to be given one last chance to hit the big time. But few – in the West anyway – will head for the church to ask their local vicar for lottery numbers. In Thailand, however, a visit to the temple or a shrine to pray for the right numbers is commonplace, and some monks have a reputation for being able to divine which digits will do the trick. Some Thais visit fortune tellers for lottery advice. Other sources of numbers are car registration plates, addresses or telephone numbers.

By the way, there are other approaches to choose lottery numbers. Strategy plays a crucial role for chances of winning in lottery. Winners of lottery do a lot of research on the winning numbers and the probability of numbers to be selected. Experts usually buy series of numbers which increases the possibility of winning numbers that benefits the user in the end, but it's more expensive, of course. The most clever and logical approach is done by the statistical calculation of probabilities.

"Thai Lottery Lucky Numbers Generator" is the first and actually the only statistical number picker for PC developed specifically for the Thai Lottery. A complete application to generate thai lottery numbers on the basis of statistical data, percentage formulas and casualty occurrences.

All numbers selected are chosen using a half-random number generator that also picks lottery numbers with the most chances of winning, according to statistical calculations and manual exclusions. The user can effectively manually exclude numbers from the next session of generated numbers, let the software work independently or choose the percentage between statistical calculation and pure luck.

You can never be sure that your lottery ticket will be a winning one, but you can increase your chances by picking more possible numbers and combinations statistically generated. Our Best-Seller software (Version 4.0 just released!) will stop you from making guesswork and get you into a more scientific approach of lottery draws. You and / or your thai partner will appreciate our effort.

Plus, the “Archive” section contains a database of previous thai lottery draws sheets to view or print. It allows users to select any given date in order to review the results of past draws quickly and easily.

You can print the full sheet of a previous draw. The software automatically updates the latest draw's results just one hour after the official draw time. No need to buy draw results sheets anymore!

Try before you buy. The Trial Version has some features disabled and only works with a random numbers generator, but gives you an idea on how the whole works.

You can read more informations, take a look at the screenshots or download the DEMO version of the software here.

Next, we want to talk about how to watch out for a fake lottery ticket, which could be sold to anyone – especially to farangs. Here are the steps.

A fake lottery ticket has following characteristics: different color from the original - different paper - no watermark – the seller is normally unknown in the street and has only a few tickets in his box.
